MBR Supports Greenpeace

MBR Wastewater Treatment is one of the supporters of Greenpeace volunteers that are working to develop environmental awareness around the world for years, with the numerous organizations they perform.

Importance of treatment is as clear as water. Environment - friendly technologies are provided in all MBR systems. The world's and especially our country's water resources are becoming scarce, get polluted and becoming dear. With MBR Re-use Plants, water is recovered back into the environment, resource allocation of the investors is minimized also investors save from accelerated depreciation. MBR Wastewater Treatment tries to inform public by seminars and publications about recovery and protection of water basins. Since its establishment, MBR has been working hand in hand with public and local authorities and civil organizations in order to inform public, without requiring any charge.
